Question two: (10 Points)

For items (31-35), choose the correct answer from A, B, C or D to answer the questions.

Read the text carefully and answer the questions:

There was a lot of hype about this documentary in the media using words like ‘exciting’ and ‘revealing’, and so it’s really no surprise that the viewing figures showed that vast numbers of people watched it. I think a lot of people are really interested in optical illusions. However, it left me feeling underwhelmed. As they had chosen the most famous ones, I’d already seen them numerous times. I mean, who hasn’t seen the Northern Lights in Iceland by now? I also felt that the elaborate explanations about how the illusions worked were a little patronising and treated the audience as if they were children. With the dramatic music and a presenter who seemed to act as though he was the most important part of the programme, they managed to make the illusions less interesting somehow.

31. According to the text, what words did the media use to describe the documentary?

- A) Boring and repetitive
- B) ‘Exciting’ and ‘revealing’
- C) Educational and scientific
- D) Short and dramatic

32. Why was the author "underwhelmed" by the illusions shown?

- A) They were too blurry to see clearly.
- B) They had already seen them numerous times.
- C) The illusions did not work on camera.
- D) There were not enough illusions included.

33. How did the author describe the "elaborate explanations" in the programme?

- A) Helpful and deeply insightful
- B) Too fast to be understood
- C) A little patronising
- D) Scientifically inaccurate

34. What specific natural phenomenon does the author mention seeing in Iceland?

- A) Volcanic eruptions
- B) Glacial shifts
- C) The Northern Lights
- D) Giant geysers

35. How did the presenter appear to act, according to the author?

- A) As though he was bored by the subject
- B) As though he was the most important part of the programme
- C) As though he was an expert in physics
- D) As though he was nervous on camera

Question three: (10 Points)

For items (36-40), choose the correct answer from A, B, C or D .

Read the text carefully and answer the questions:

Preschoolers often envisage their future careers as copies of their parents, such as a teacher or a truck driver, for example, or perhaps as the princess or prince they see in their storybooks. However, as they grow older, the scope for dreaming extends too. At primary school, children's ambitions tend towards the fantastic – perhaps not quite as unrealistic as the princesses or princes of fairytales, but actors and athletes are high on the lists today, and interestingly money as well as success are prime motivators. A nine-year-old may well covet the idea of being a famous actor while another may set their mind on being a proud owner of numerous aeroplanes one day. Realistically, the chances of achieving these aims are incredibly slim. The probability of becoming an astronaut (another favourite) is remarkably low as is the possibility of winning medals at the Olympics. But primary school is the time to dream big and be optimistic.

36. Who do preschoolers often imagine their future careers to be copies of?

- A) Famous athletes and actors
- B) Their parents
- C) Their primary school teachers
- D) Astronauts

37. What are described as the "prime motivators" for children at primary school?

- A) Helping others and traveling
- B) Copying their storybooks
- C) Money and success
- D) Building numerous aeroplanes

38. Which career is mentioned as an example of a "fantastic" ambition during primary school?

- A) Truck driver
- B) Teacher
- C) Princess or prince
- D) Actor

39. How does the author describe the chances of becoming an astronaut or an Olympic medalist?

- A) Highly likely with hard work
- B) Incredibly slim and remarkably low
- C) Better than becoming a teacher
- D) Guaranteed for optimistic children

40. According to the text, what is the ideal mindset for children during their primary school years?

- A) To be realistic and practical
- B) To follow exactly in their parents' footsteps
- C) To dream big and be optimistic
- D) To focus solely on becoming a princess or prince

Question four: (20 Points)

Based on the excerpt from Great Expectations , for items (41-50), choose the correct answer from A, B, C or D .

A year passed. I toiled hard every day, helping neighbours with small jobs, but in the evening, I went to the village school. The old lady who was supposed to teach me would sleep through the classes, leaving her kind and understanding granddaughter, Biddy, to show me how to read and write. One night Joe saw me sitting by the fire as I was practising my writing 'I say, Pip, what a scholar you are!' he said 'Did you never go to school, Joe?' I asked 'No, Pip, ' he replied. 'My father forbade me from going, but he had a good heart. He taught me to be a blacksmith. And after he died, I met Mrs Joe.'

41. What did Pip do during the day for a whole year?

- A) He attended the village school.
- B) He worked as an apprentice blacksmith.

- D) She was teaching her granddaughter instead.

44. Who actually taught Pip how to read and write?

- A) Joe
- B) The old lady
- C) Biddy
- D) Mrs. Joe

45. How is Biddy described in the passage?

- A) Strict and elderly
- B) Kind and understanding
- C) Busy and hardworking
- D) Proud and scholarly

46. What was Pip doing when Joe saw him by the fire?

- A) Helping a neighbor
- B) Reading a book
- C) Practicing his writing
- D) Sleeping

47. What term did Joe use to express his admiration for Pip's learning?

- A) Teacher
- B) Blacksmith
- C) Scholar
- D) Neighbor

48. Why did Joe never attend school?

- A) He had to work for the neighbors.
- B) His father forbade him from going.
- C) There was no school in the village at the time.
- D) He preferred to be a blacksmith.

49. What did Joe's father teach him to be?
